ØREDEV DEVELOPER CONFERENCE 19-22 NOV 2018 SWEDEN

International Conference for Developers

THE NONPROFIT CHALLENGE

Non profits are challenged with finding quality keynote speakers, providing value to the vendors and making sure audiences want to come back to the event year over year. All this at zero dollars or no cost! Chris Dancy understands this and works with events to deliver as much as possible for the lowest possible fee. Non profits start at just 5000.00

Today's audiences don't want to hear things they can find on Google, listen to "inspiring stories" they can see on YouTube or meet A grade celebrities to whom they have nothing in common with.

AUDIENCES WANT

- Real world experience
- Fact based findings
- Solutions they can take back to work
- Technology and health Examples from people LIKE them.
- Examples that show them how to make more of their home, family and career.

ORGANIZERS NEED

- Speakers who follow procedures and timelines.
- Speakers who inspire people to organically WANT tweet, Instagram and photo the event.
- Speakers who are just as invested in your events success as their keynotes!
- Speakers who will bring local press to events!

ØREDEV

International Conference for Developers

November 19-22 2018

Malmö, Sweden

SUMMARY

Øredev is a nonprofit developer conference in Malmo Sweden. The conference has grown steadily over the past 10 years and is not housed in the convention center in Malmo! The conference wanted to utilize Chris Dancy at the event to bring 360 degrees of next generation content and attention to the event , attendees, partners and city of Malmo, Sweden!

Oredev wanted to maximize their three day event and their keynote investment of 15K dollars. Chris worked with the team to create an incredible agenda that was powerful, impactful and changed so many lives!

Day One / Session: History of the Occult and Technology 60 minute session -Downloading Paganism -60 minutes keynote. Inspire and provoke the audience to think about computer code as magic. Create and demonstrate real life examples of occult and technology interplaying. Create content that only Chris Dancy could research and deliver to memorize and challenge the audiences senses.

Day Two / Keynote: For the main stage the Øredev organizers wanted users to have a spiritual and mindful feeling regarding technology. They asked Chris to deliver his "Designing Compassionate Systems" keynote and help them see technology as a way to support mindfulness and mental health best practices!

Day Three / Workshop: For Chris's last day, he gave a two hour workshop to the developers on designing time based technology. The workshop which was pioneered in 2016 in Paris is called "Chrono-Cyborgology -Learning to hack your sense of time with technology, Pt. 1" and takes users on a journey to see their digital life through the lens of time travel, then design their life around these temporal interfaces.

Day Four / Panel: Chris ended his last session on a Transhumanism biohacker panel debating the merits of being cyborg!

Expo Hall: When Chris wasn't delivering content he met with hundreds of attendees and performed his world famous iPhone palmistry!

Så blev det då äntligen dags för ännu en inspirerande Oredev konferens i Malmö. Full av inspirerande keynotes och presentationer. En av favoriterna var Chris Dancy, the worlds most connected man, med sina Chrono-Cyborgology-learning seminarier. Och Moon Rigas med keynoten Earthbeat: The art of Creating your own senses. Moon känner vibrationerna från jordbävningar på jordklotet, i sin fot!

"I am the greatest device I've got to work on" @chrisdancy at #oredev

We are our technology. The border becomes less and less clear. We must start focusing on (human) values, rather than tools or features.

Message: Hi Chris,

I just want to say thank you for your sessions during Oredev. I participated in your workshop about Chrono-Cyborgology today and I have not wrapped my head around all of it yet, but I feel that I am on to something big for me personally. My big take away right now is the difference from being driven by technology vs "drive" technology (i.e. use it to fit your personal needs).

It sounds a bit stupid and so obvious, but I have never really given it a thought before and when you showed how you use the functionality I have in my iPhone and laptop in a different way I got it. From now I will remove all the elements of my personal IT equipment that I feel is "chasing" me. Instead I will copy a couple of your examples and have my IT stuff encourage me to do the things that makes me feel good.

I will for sure re-visit your sessions once they become available on youtube. I am pretty sure there are more gems to pick up.

But for now I would just like to say a big thanks for an experience that looks like a life-changer for me.

Thanks

/Nils
